

Privacy notice for pupils

You have a legal right to be informed about how our school uses any personal information that we hold about you. To comply with this, we provide a 'privacy notice' to you where we are processing your personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about you.

- We, Ridgeway School, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law
- Our data protection officer is Joyce Webb

The personal data we hold

We hold some personal information about you to make sure we can help you learn and look after you at school.

For the same reasons, we get information about you from some other places too – like other schools, the local council, healthcare providers and the government.

This information includes:

- Your contact details and date of birth
- Results of internal assessments and tests
- Your teacher's records including progress and behaviour records
- Your special characteristics such as ethnic background and religion
- Details about your health or special educational needs
- Your attendance records
- Photographs and videos
- CCTV images captured in school

Why we use this data

We use this data to help run the school, including to:

- Get in touch with you and your parents when we need to
- Check how you're doing in exams and work out whether you or your teachers need any extra help
- Track how well the school as a whole is performing
- Look after your health and wellbeing

Our legal basis for using this data

We will only collect and use your information when the law allows us to. Most often, we will use your information where:

- We need to comply with the law
- We need to use it to carry out a task in the public interest (in order to provide you with an education)

Sometimes, we may also use your personal information where:

- You, or your parents/carers have given us permission to use it in a certain way
- We need to protect you in some way e.g. your safety or health (or protect someone else)

Where we have got permission to use your data, you or your parents/carers may withdraw this at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for permission and explain how to go about withdrawing consent.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using your information overlap, and there may be several grounds which mean we can use your data.

Collecting this information

While in most cases you, or your parents/carers, must provide the personal information we need to collect, there are some occasions when you can choose whether or not to provide the data. We will always tell you if it's optional. If you must provide the data, we will explain what might happen if you don't.

How we store this data

We will keep personal information about you while you are a pupil at our school. We may also keep it after you have left the school, where we are required to by law.

We have a Data Retention Schedule, which is available on our website, which sets out how long we must keep information about pupils.

Information/Data sharing

We do not share personal information about you with anyone outside the school without permission from you or your parents/carers, unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary for another reason allowed under data protection law, we may share personal information about you with:

- Our local authority such as social workers – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with them, such as information for the Education, Health and Care Plans
- The Department for Education – to meet our obligation to record all pupils and certain information about those pupils
- Your family and representatives – to keep them informed about progress, concerns, behaviour and health and wellbeing
- Educators and examining bodies – to register you for exams and assessments
- Our regulator, Ofsted – to enable them to assess the quality of education, safeguarding and management processes in the school
- Suppliers and service providers – to enable them to provide the service we have contracted them for
- Financial/funding organisations – to enable them to provide funding for education, health and social care
- Health authorities/health professionals or social welfare organisations or charities e.g. school nurses, speech and language therapists, physiotherapists – to enable them to meet your health or welfare needs
- Professional advisers and consultants – to enable them to provide advice to the school on improving the education, support or safeguarding of all pupils
- Police forces, courts, tribunals – if required to provide information about specific pupils

National Pupil Database

We are required to provide information about you to the Department for Education (a government department) as part of data collections such as the school census.

Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database, which is managed by the Department for Education and provides evidence on how schools are performing. This, in turn, supports research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information it holds is collected securely from schools, local authorities, exam boards and others.

The Department for Education may share information from the database with other organisations which promote children's education or wellbeing in England. These organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use your data.

You can find more information about this on the Department for Education's webpage on how it collects and shares research data.

You can also contact the Department for Education if you have any questions about the database.

Youth support services

Once you reach the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information about you to Bedford Borough Council (or another Local Authority if they are responsible for you) as it has legal responsibilities regarding the education or training of 13-19 year-olds. This information enables it to provide youth support services, post-16 education and training services, and careers advisers.

Transferring data internationally

Where we share data with an organisation that is based outside the European Economic Area, we will protect your data by following data protection law.

Your rights

How to access personal information we hold about you

You can find out if we hold any personal information about you, and how we use it, by making a 'subject access request', as long as we judge that you can properly understand your rights and what they mean.

If we do hold information about you, we will:

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding and using it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you or your parents
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know if we are using your data to make any automated decisions (decisions being taken by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- Give you a copy of the information

You may also ask us to send your personal information to another organisation electronically in certain circumstances.

If you would like to make a request, please read our Subject Access Request guidance that is available from the school office and on our website. There is also a form for assisting you with your request.

You have other rights over how your personal data is used and kept safe, including the right to:

- Say that you don't want it to be used if this would cause, or is causing, harm or distress
- Stop it being used to send you marketing materials
- Say that you don't want it used to make automated decisions (decisions made by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- Have it corrected, deleted or destroyed if it is wrong, or restrict our use of it
- Claim compensation if the data protection rules are broken and this harms you in some way
